CONFAB OPENS
AT WILLOWBROOK

More than 70 employes of schools of the state Department of Mental Hygiene gathered yesterday in Willowbrook State School for the opening session of a week-long work conference on school problems.

The group was greeted by Dr. Martin Lazar, assistant director of the Willowbrook school. Opening lectures were given by Miss Lillian Salsman, director of nursing service for the department, and Dr. Omar W. Gilmour of the Wassaic (N. Y.) State School.

Others speakers were Dr. Kathryn Gasorek, clinical psychologist, and Miss Florence Goodfield, chief supervising nurse, both of Willowbrook school.

Attending the sessions, which will continue through Friday, are nursing personnel of Rome, Wassaic, Letchworth Village, Syracuse and Willowbrook State Schools.
