

STATEN ISLAND ADVANCE, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1966

Preparing for Harvest Festival

Residents of Willowbrook State School prepare a "sukka," or outdoor booth, for the Succoth holiday, which begins today. Rabbi Phillip Goldberg, school chaplain, supervises the construction of the sukka, which he said is probably the largest on Staten Island. The eight-day festival is a major Jewish holiday and is akin to the American Thanksgiving Day in that it honors the harvest season.

S. I. Advance Photo by Barry G. Schwartz