

School for Nurses Taking Applications

The School for Practical Nurses at Willowbrook State School is now accepting applications,

Miss Frances Ryan, principal announced today.

Staten Islanders may apply for admission through the state employment office at 25 Hyatt St. Forty stipends, valued at $3,125, a year are available to students throughout the state.

The stipend provides for expenses, spending money, tuition and maintenance during the year-long course of study that enables graduates to take a state licensing test.

Persons aged 18 through 49, who have completed 10th grade education, are eligible. No state service is required of students.
