

STATEN ISLAND ADVANCE, Thursday, March 4, 1971

Protesting to keep jobs

Provisional employees of the Willowbrook State School distribute leaflets to motorists in a protest against the implementation of a Career Ladder Program which may cost them their jobs. The new program would replace provisional workers with persons who meet certain educational standards. Protesters insist that the fact they are handling the jobs now is proof of their competence.

S.I. Advance Photo by Frank J. Johns