

State school pupils stage benefit show

Students of Willowbrook State School, entertained an audience of 700 persons in "An Evening of Fashion and Music" last night in the Shalimar, New Dorp.

The program, sponsored by the Staten Island Chapter of Unico National, began with a medley of popular songs performed by the school band under the direction of Joseph Lombardi, music instructor.

Students then modeled fashions, ranging from jump suits to bikinis, that they had designed and sewn in classes. Preparations for the fashion show were supervised by Mrs. Bridget Menuey, the school's fashion coordinator. Models were introduced by Mrs. Louise Cognata.

The final segment of the program featured the school glee club. The group was conducted by Al Lambert and James Turzer, music instructors.

Proceeds from the show, which was planned by Thomas Cataneo, chapter treasurer, were donated to the school.
