

Tonight, as a public service, we're going to make you sick.

This is a picture of a place called Willowbrook. It made news recently. Bad news.

You see, Willowbrook is a mental institution run by the State of New York. And what is happening there is enough to make you sick.

A series of reports about Willowbrook was originally seen on segments of the Eyewitness News program.

The series caused a public uproar.

And already some good has come of it.

Tonight, we're putting the entire Willowbrook story together on one program in the hope that more people will watch it.

And that more good will come from it.

Willowbrook: "The Last Great Disgrace."

An Eyewitness News special report with Geraldo Rivera. 7:30 tonight on WABC-TV
