

STATEN ISLAND ADVANCE, Saturday, June 15, 1974

Carnival $$ to go to Willowbrook

A carnival with proceeds going to Willowbrook State School is being held today in the Masters Shopping Center, New Dorp, from 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Originally a photography festival in which photographic equipment manufacturers could show their products, the sponsors decided to turn the profits over to Willowbrook.

Cartoon characters and games of chance are the main attractions. Masters representatives say they will give a contribution to the school totaling the proceeds taken in by the festival.

Willowbrook also has a booth at the festival with a slide show explaining how the money contributed will be used at the school.

Five-year-old Nancy Leib, left, looks somewhat awed as she shows her balloon to cartoon character Wendy Witch as part of a photography festival being held today at Masters Shopping Center, New Dorp. Meanwhile, bikini-clad Vanessa Sante, left, and Irene D'Andrea create a festival of their own.