

It's your opinion

Vaccine began at Willowbrook

How ironic that the name Willowbrook State School, which has become a dirty word, should have been the one to produce the vaccine to control the epidemic of measles which recently broke out in our high schools and was brought under control quickly.

You may recall that in 1956 it was at Willowbrook that we made available to the world, including Staten Island, the measles vaccine.

HAROLD H. BERMAN, M.D.,
144 Willowbrook Rd.,
Port Richmond Center