

Hepatitis to be topic of parley

Viral hepatitis will be the topic of a conference at Willowbrook Developmental Center April 14.

The 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. session will cover viral hepatitis in institutionalized populations and its possible spread of infection into the community.

Two New York University School of Medicine faculty members, Dr. M. Yoeli, professor of preventive medicine and Dr. S. Krugman, professor of pediatrics, will speak at the session. Dr. R. McCollum, professor and chairman of the department of preventive medicine and epidemiology at Yale University, will comment.

"The Pathology of Viral Hepatitis as Observed in Willowbrook. Hepatitis and Concomitant Infections" will be discussed by Dr. G. Scheinsson, pathologist and director of laboratories at Willowbrook.
