

Fire routs 70 at Willowbrook

More than 70 residents of Willowbrook Developmental Center were forced to evacuate Building 11 yesterday morning during a small but smoky fire that started in the cellar. No one was injured, authorities reported.

Officials said the fire was restricted to the cellar by an automatic sprinkler system and was extinguished by employees before firemen arrived about 9 a.m.

After a search of the structure, the residents and personnel returned to the building.

Officials said the cause of the blaze was undetermined.
