Fatal fall probed at Willowbrook

The Medical Examiner's office has requested Staten Island detectives to probe the death of a Willowbrook patient who apparently fell from a swing on the institution's ground and died four days later.

The death of Robert Binns, 22, was attributed to a fractured spine and hemorrhaging an autopsy determined.

Binns reportedly fell of a swing May 27 and was taken to U.S. Public Health Hospital, Clifton, where he died June 10.
