

Aid group sets festive auction

Staten Island Aid for Retarded Children, a private, community-based group, will hold a fund-raising event tomorrow at 5 p.m. in the education building auditorium of the Willowbrook Developmental Center.

Monies derived from the event will be used to continue existing programs serving retarded people, including toddler education, adult activities and sheltered workshops.

In addition, the benefit will aid a new Group Training Home, which is to be opened soon and operated jointly by Willowbrook and Staten Island Aid in 215 Bay St., Tompkinsville.

Plants, books, baked goods will be for sale, and there will be music and dancing from 5 to 7 p.m. Then, at 7:30, items donated by local merchants will be auctioned off. Refreshments may be bought throughout the evening.

Fair at Willowbrook to aid retarded

A community rapport between the Willowbrook Developmental Center and the Staten Island Aid for Retarded Children will be in evidence tomorrow at a fair from 5 to 9:30 p.m. in Building 3's auditorium at Willowbrook.

Proceeds of the event, which is open to the public, will go to Aid for the Retarded to further its educational and recreational programs for children and adults.

Representatives of the developmental center and the beneficiary agency are in charge of arrangements.

The auction will begin at 7:30 but booths displaying merchandise, games, plants and books will be open at 5. Al Lambert and the Corporation will provide music.
