

FOSTER PARENTS NEEDED

The S.I. Boro Developmental Services Office is recruiting Staten Islanders to serve as foster parents for developmentally disabled clients that are ready to leave S.I. Developmental Center and return to family-like living situations in the community.

Foster parents are compensated for care and maintenance of each client living in their home and are assisted in their efforts by trained professional staff.

Applicants must be eighteen years of age or older, be in good health and have adequate room available in their home.

For further information and applications contact Ms. Carmen Fahn at 698-1440 extension 565.
