

Special Olympics committee seeks volunteers for event

The Staten Island Special Olympic Committee says it is seeking volunteers to assist at this year's Sectional Special Olympics for the mentally retarded, scheduled for the weekend of May 2-4 at the Staten Island Developmental Center, Willowbrook.

About 400 Staten Island youngsters are expected to participate in this year's athletic competition, with the winners going on to the New York State Special Olympics later this year.

Volunteers are needed as chaperones, messengers, timers, judges, and security workers, and, if possible, volunteers should be available for three or four hours per day. Anyone wishing to volunteer should call Janet Esposito at 351-2799 or Richard Salinardi at 356-0901.
