

Winning residents at developmental center

From the left, Dr. Ella Curry, director of the Staten Island Developmental Center, Willowbrook; Joan Vovero, of Richmond County Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and volunteers Frances Grimaldi, Marie Fecci and Mary Martin, display to center residents the winning poster in a contest held among residents of the developmental center. The contest was jointly sponsored by the center's Foster Grandparent program, and the VFW post. The Foster Grandparent program works with the center's residents who are under the age of 21, while a similar program, senior companions, works with adults. More information on the programs can be obtained from Nettie Evans at the center.

S.I. Advance Photo by Robert Parsons.