Honored for aiding handicapped scouts

Deputy Borough President Ralph Lamberti was honored recently for his help in expanding the Scouting for the Handicapped program on Staten Island.

Vivian Harris, volunteer director of Scouting for the Handicapped, said, "Our program for the handicapped is the fastest growing segment of scouting, and we certainly could not have offered scouting to as many handicapped youngsters as we have if it wasn't for the special efforts of Ralph Lamberti."

There are about 20,000 physically and mentally handicapped youngsters in scouting in the city.
