

* * *

In another case, Felig sentenced Leverne Leveridge, 43, of Bayonne, N.J., to probation for five years on a felony drug sale charge.

Leveridge was one of a number of former employees of the Staten Island Developmental Center who were arrested last year in a crackdown on employee drug sales. Leveridge was accused of selling cocaine to a police undercover agent on Jan. 21, 1983.