

Flag Day is celebrated at developmental center

Staten Island Developmental Center residents and employees celebrated Flag Day with a picnic and the presentation of merit awards on the grounds of the Willowbrook facility yesterday.

Monsignor John Servodidio, member of the board of visitors and pastor of St. Joseph's R.C. Church, Rosebank, presented James Walsh, director, and Fiorello Cicero, chief of services, with certificates for their "positive spirit and involvement."

Also featured at the celebration were the Curtis High School marching band and cadets.

The American flag was on display, along with flags representing each state.
