

L. J. Advance

5/23/65

Correction

In a story on Staten Island Developmental Center published May 2, captions under three pictures incorrectly identified the center's Richmond Complex as a facility operated by United Cerebral Palsy of New York State and identified employees pictured in the photos as working for UCP. Although the facility was operated by UCP for many years, it was turned over to the state Office of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities last year and is now operated by state employees.