Corrections

Andre Rand, the man arrested Tuesday in connection with the disappearance of Jennifer Schweiger, was never employed by the Marshall School, a pre-school that operated in South Beach until 1984. Rand used a Marshall School bus to take 11 West Brighton children on a ride to Newark in January 1983, according to the school's former owner, Ivan Marshall. Rand was able to take the bus, Marshall said, by talking the school's driver into loaning him the keys.
