100 to 60 to

13.4

(From Page 1)

winning or losing a case at trial. as being every bit as important as those in the profession recognize looked by the public but which lawyering that is generally over-of years in prison." sel led Lotze to plead guilty rather than go to trial, with the result analyze a case. In the Lotze case, Murphy said Giovinazzo weighed that he saved his client "a number prosecution's case, and his counthe strength and weakness of the This is a lawyer's ability to appreciate that as a trial lawyer, "try as you might, you're still going to lose some." still had the presence of mind to. string of successes" and yet he Giovinazzo had just "run off this impression, Murphy said, was that What left him with such a vivid sion in the Lotze case "lent cretalented trial lawyer. dence to the fact that he is a Murphy said Giovinazzo's deciaccorded Rand, despite the fact uting to the damaging publicity" that Murphy might have been professional stand in not contribpoint, he says he has only respect licity at a time when he is running tempted to capitalize on the pubfor what he calls Murphy's "very From Giovinazzo's vantage ing him as a suspect in the disapprejudicial publicity that made his client look "evil" by identify. sources for what he feels was for reelection. Giovinazzo blamed police away. from which authorities now draw ten Island - a characterization pearance of other persons on Sta-dead end. police acted out of "frustration" as their investigation ran into a before the girl's body was found — had been "premature" and that kidnapping charge - eight days that Rand's arrest Aug. 4 on a Giovinazzo said he believed lice had not consulted him. have sanctioned an arrest on such Murphy was "too conservative" to "meager" evidence, and that po-The lawyer said he believed matters. cent years he acknowledged that in criminal law, although in reattorney, has always kept his hand led him more and more into civil the stress of criminal trials has Giovinazzo, in his 33 years as an said the former police officer. closely contested criminal cases, "My first love always has been of pre-trial publicity. a fair trial on the Island because ment on Aug. 14, Giovinazzo has insisted that Rand cannot receive From the outset of his appoint-those questioned believed Rand to a result of the publicity and 196 of he commissioned. Of 230 persons papers the results of a private poll Giovinazzo has attached to his venue, seeking to shift trial of the percent were aware of the case as questioned, the poll case to In moving for a change of another showed 95 county, > be guilty. The motion is return-able Friday before the Appellate Division in Brooklyn.

gence guide (them)." emotions rather than their intellidant in just this case. They see don't think of him as the defenmains a "closely knit community. Giovinazzo said Staten Island rein population in recent him as a threat to their children, People feel threatened ... People They let their years, try the case elsewhere, he said. unbiased jury without having to suring the selection of a fair and court procedures available for entrial on the Island. There are agree with Giovinazzo's contenion that Rand can't receive a fair The district attorney doesn't it was "newsworthy" material. led news editors to conclude that were then taking place and which view of the developments that he did not believe it "excessive" in tion from the press, Murphy said has received considerable atten-While he conceded that the case

Aug. 12 in a shallow grave in the former Staten Island Developmental Center, Willowbrook, a up until the city taking part in the search with volunteers from throughout Westerleigh and which continued July 9 from near her home in involvement that took place fol-He described the community her body was discovered

Despite Staten Island's growth opmental center, more than a they saw the girl smiling and walking hand-in-hand with Rand eight or nine witnesses who say on the day she disappeared. mile away. from near her home to the develprosecution is believed to have that Rand was seen with the girl on the day she disappeared. The the prosecution's case seems to be on the day she was last seen. Giovinazzo says he has evidence dence that she was threatened Giovinazzo says. There is no evithe person walking with Jennifer that can disprove that Rand was by almost anyone at any time She could have been picked up died, simply ruling that her death was a homicide. "Without these clue as to when or how the girl topsy report fails to provide any Furthermore, he says the au-

利を対し

and the state of had maintained a campsite. short distance from where Rand Murphy noted that the press played a key role in the search and its cooperation was sought in the girl's abductor.

Without the extraordinary inhe investigation and search for the investigation as well as the search, "there would be no case here," Murphy said. volvement of the community, in cumstantial evidence. drawn for a possible trial -Murphy concede will focus on cirtrial which both Giovinazzo and Legal lines are already being Giovinazzo said that the crux of essential elements, it's going to be difficult to prove Rand or anyone else killed her," Giovinazzo said. From a legal point of view, land and other counties beginning

Dec. 1. being implemented on Staten Iscameras into courtrooms that sources for what he feels was prejudicial publicity that Giovinazzo blam a characterization from which eight days before the girl's on a kidnapping charge that Rand's arrest Aug. 4 persons on Staten Island in the disappearances of other identifying him as a suspect made his client look "evil" by Giovinazzo said he believed authorities now draw away.

investigation ran into a dead police acted out of body was found — had been "premature" and that "frustration" as their of TV coverage, as well as press professional responsibility. All In "I can't comment on the merits; of the case under the code of trials in the state to be the subject. can say is watch. mental program for permitting photographers, under an experimake it among the first murder next year, some observers feel interest in it may be sufficient to If the case goes to trial early Murphy said he believes that case will not be "extraordinary cumstantial evidence. light the importance of cirbut interesting" as it will high-While many persons have a re-evidence as proof of a person's is developed in a trial setting ..... strong case, depending on how it exacting that it can make it a very dards (for such evidence) are so guilt, Murphy said the "legal stanluctance to accept circumstantial