

When the horrors of the former Willowbrook State School, above, for the retarded were exposed in the early 1970s, public outcry over the inhumane conditions became vehement.

When community placement of the retarded started taking the form of group homes opening on neighborhood streets, local opposition rang as fiercely as the denunciations of Willowbrook.

ADVANCE FILE PHOTO

Page 2 of 2 pages