Retarded people pose no danger

In reference to the article on the proposed facility on 183 S. Greenleaf Avenue to be a group home:

I proposed at the meetings of the Staten Island Retardation & Disabilities Council to leave out the "retardation" and concentrate on "disabilities," as that is what these children are — disabled. This is so the likes of June Clarke would not think that "they could get out and roam the neighborhoods and kill us!" These children are not entrusted with an expensive car and [do not] roam around with nail-studded bats.

Ms. Clark, close yourself in a room and search your soul for being so thoughtless. I wonder how proud she was to see her name in the article. She should call her friends and ask them what they think of how out of control she can get.
