

There's a lot of paper work and bookkeeping — but there's also time for fun in the back yard.

'When I see the progress that they make, it makes me feel that our job is working. It makes me feel good, because they can learn.'