The More You Look The More You Like

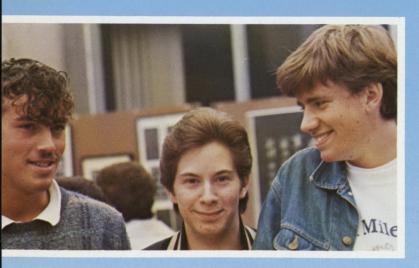

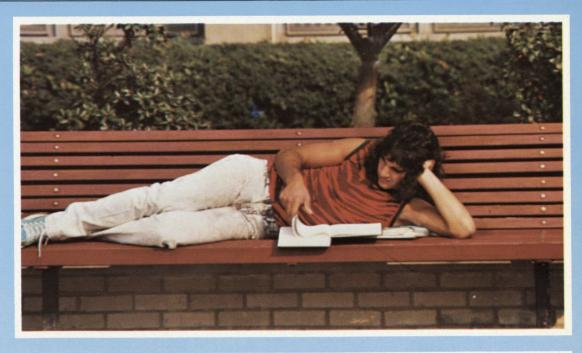

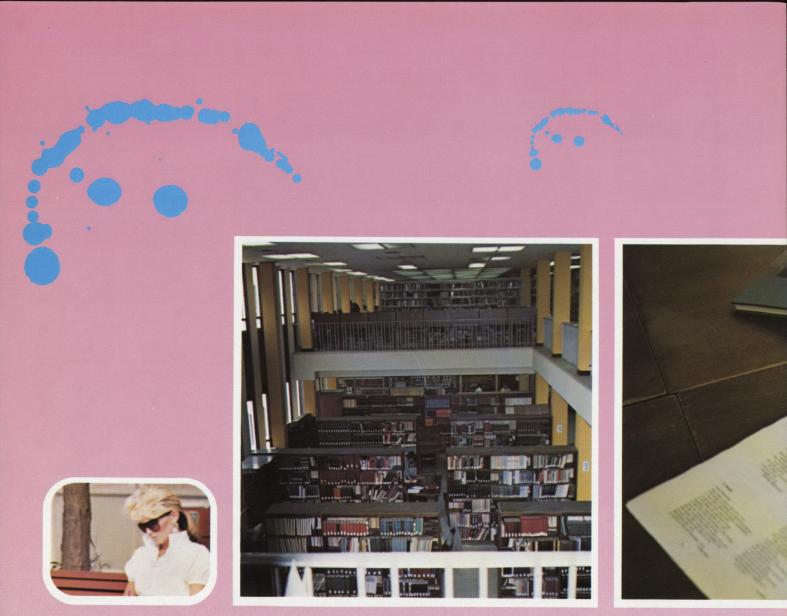

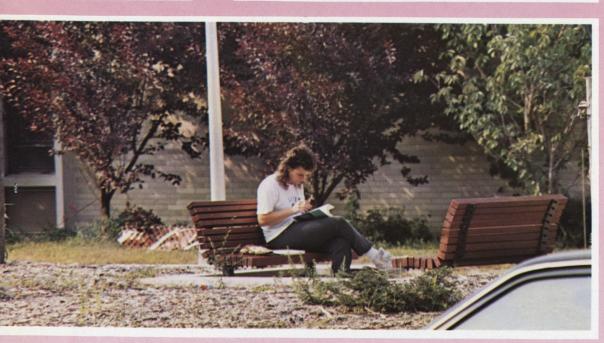

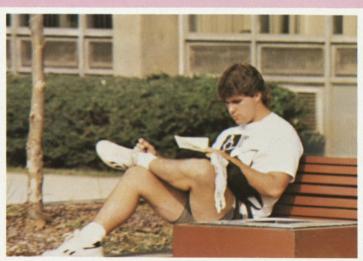

As each new semester begins, we look around the campus in ancipation of seeing old friends and meeting new ones. We note the hanges and we like it.

The College, like the students, also changes each semester. counded in 1976 by the merger of two pre-existing colleges, CSI is ow part of the third largest university system in the nation. CSI raduates can be very proud that many of our degree programs are op ranked nationally. Our extra-curricular activities and athletic rograms are competitive with other colleges.

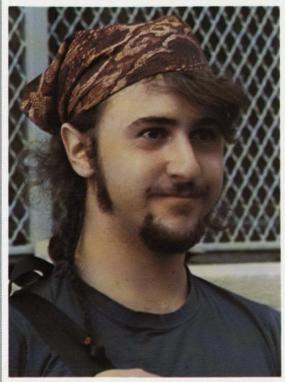

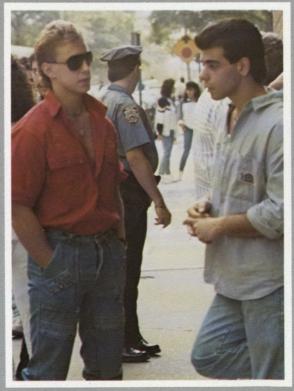

Graduates of the College of Staten Island are well prepared and an look forward to a promising future. The future of the college is lso very promising with the proposed move to a united campus.

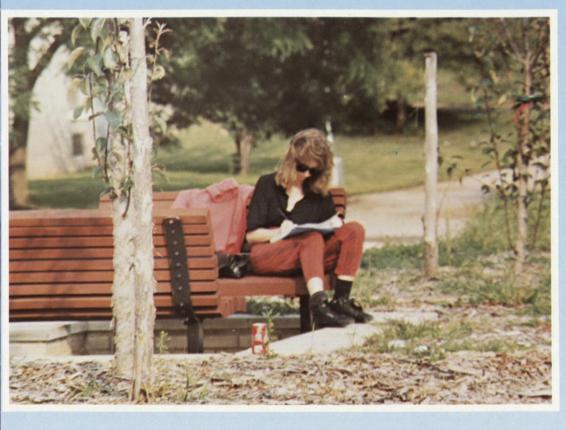

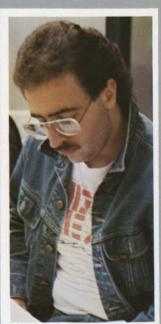

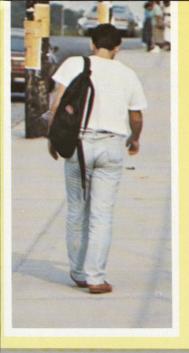

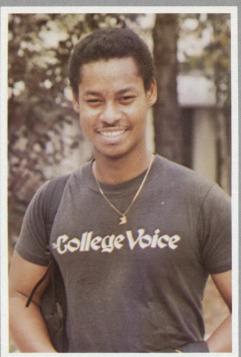

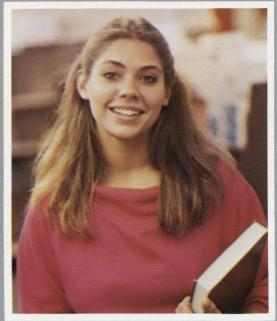

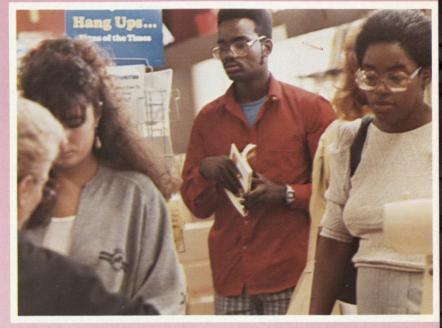

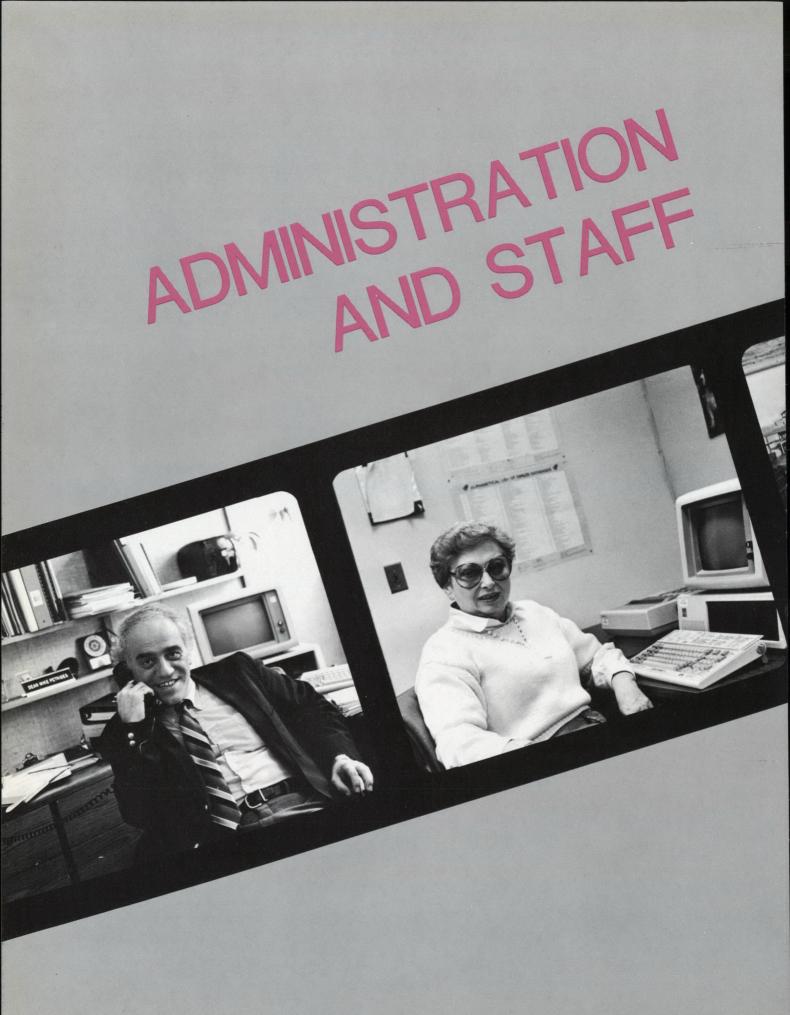

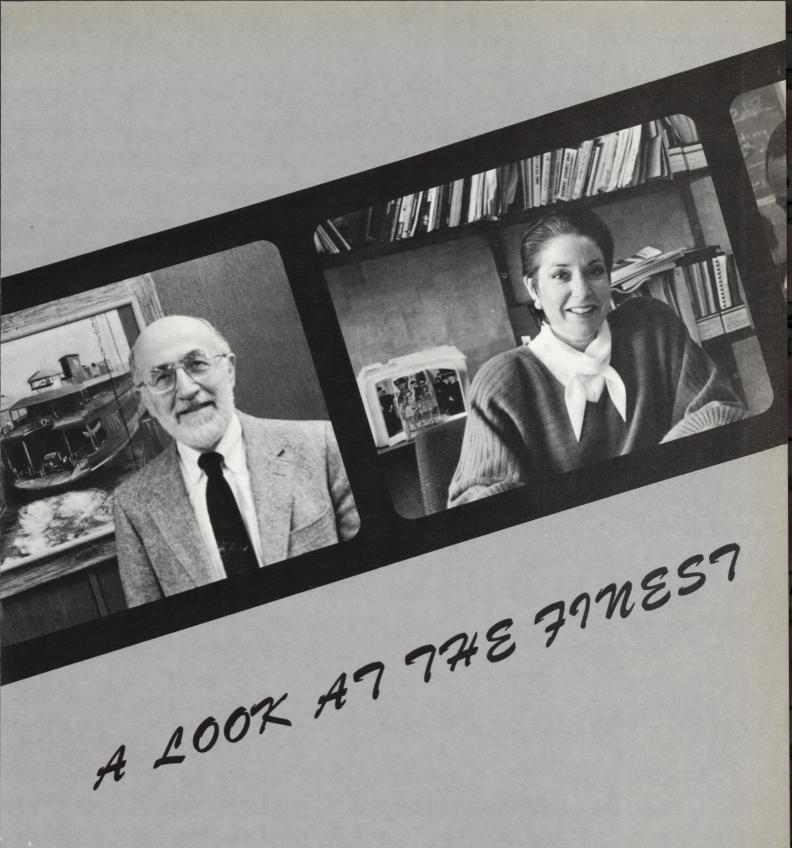

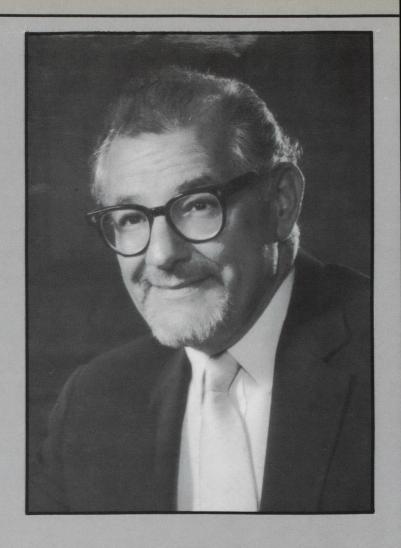

To the Class of 1988:

The proof of your education at CSI will lie in the way you conduct your life. We hope that we have helped to prepare you for a career, but our real goal has been to prepare you to live a full and responsible life.

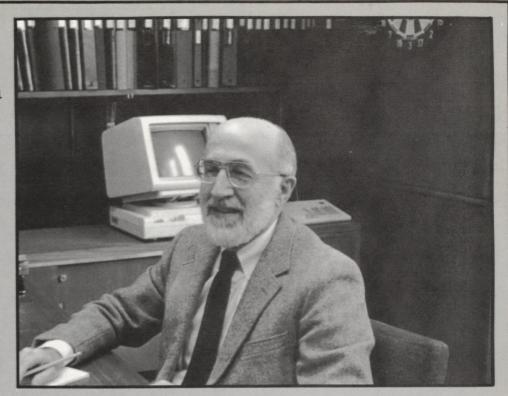

Your responsibilities as an educated person will extend from the immediate circle of family and friends to an ever-widening circle of responsibility to your community and your society. Your commitment to those many and varied responsibilities will be a measure of the fullness of your life and of your education at CSI.

To each member of the class of 1988, I extend my sincere wishes for a full, responsible, and happy life.

BASEBALL

DUGOUT DEDICATION CEREMONY

By Marianne Lombardi

The members of the Staten Island Baseball Oldtimers Association once again proved their dedication to the preservation of the game on Thursday, Sep. 10, at the Memorial Dug-Out Ceremony at CSI, Sunnyside.

The Dolphins now have, after two seasons of playing 'home games' on various high school and public fields, a home of their own at the Sunnyside campus. SIBO donated money and labor to the cause, and some of the players helped build the two dugouts which were dedicated in memory of two former Dolphins.

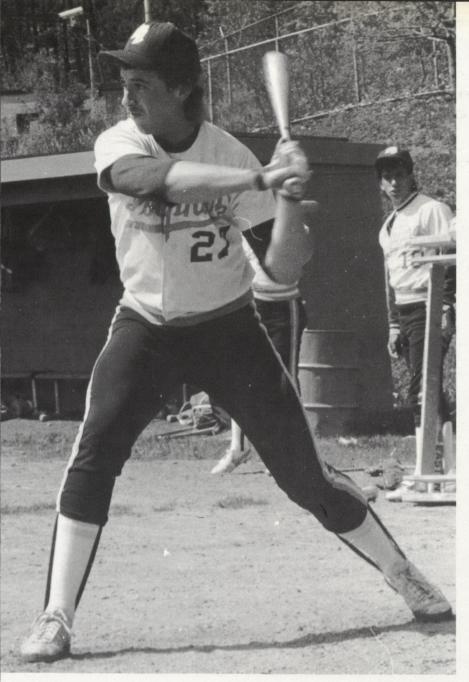

Lou DeLuca, SIBO president, presented the school with two handsome plaques, one commemorating Ed Elliot (first base dugout) and the other Tim Hallihan (third base dugout).

Ed Elliot was a first baseman for the Dolphins during his sophomore year when he was killed in a car accident June 5, 1986. He was enroute to extra batting practice when the accident occured. His parents, Ed Sr., who is a member of SIBO, and Gloria, were presented with their son's uniform when the college officially retired Ed Elliot's number, 27.

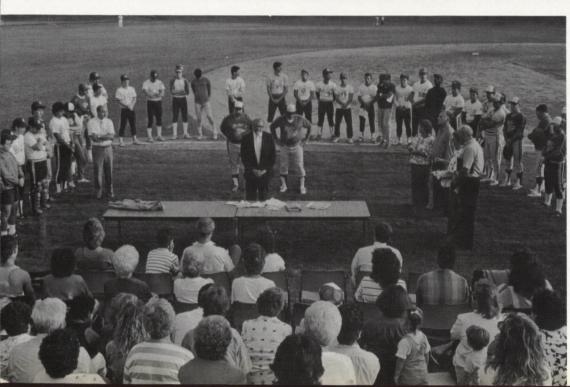

Tim Hallihan was a Dolphin captain and centerfielder under former CSI coach Sonny Grasso. He was also killed in an automobile accident during his sophomore year. Mr and Mrs. Don Hallihan were present at the commemoration.

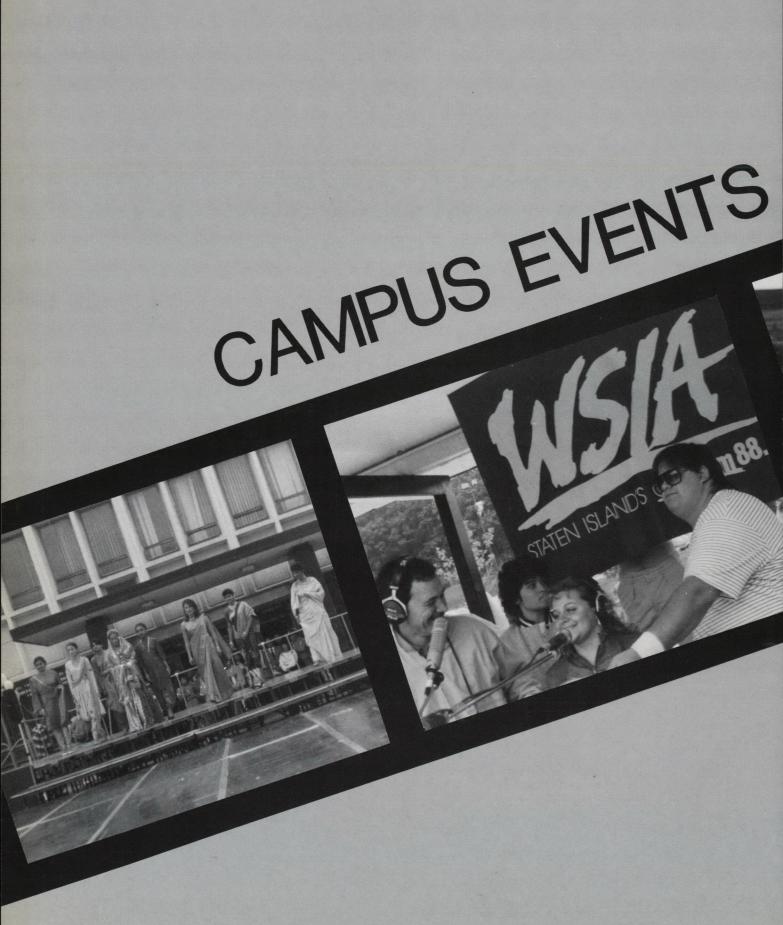

Pres. Volpe, who spoke at the dedication, assured all members of the college community that the memorial will move with the campus. "When we move to Willowbrook in five years, we will take the plaques with us," Volpe said. "This memorial will stand from this moment forward."

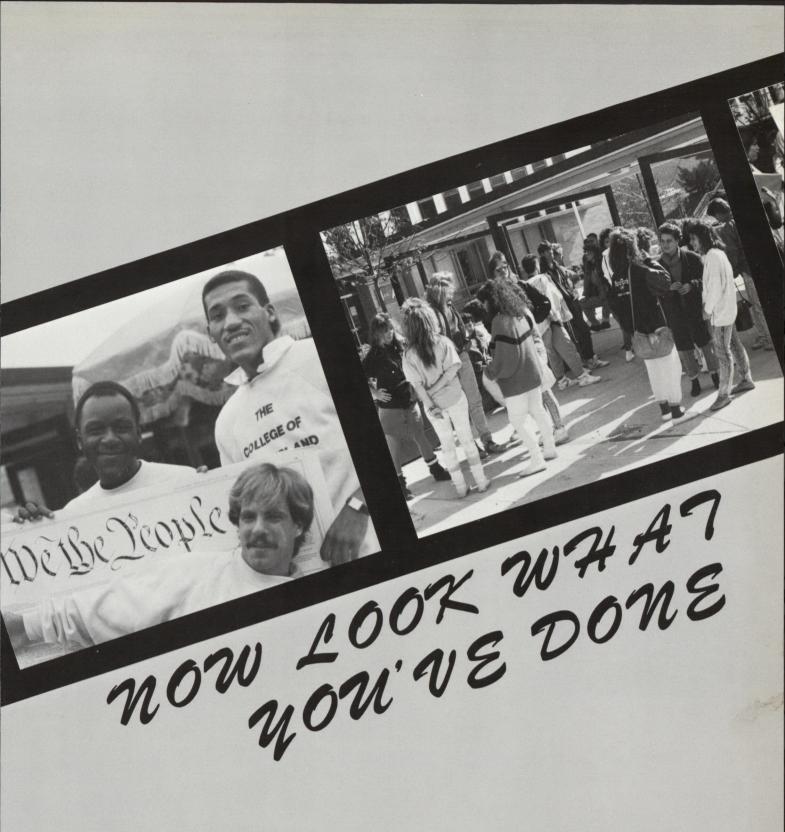

At the end of his speech, Volpe threw out the first ball of the season, initiating the first home game: an exhibition game between SIBO and the CSI Dolphins.

THE INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL

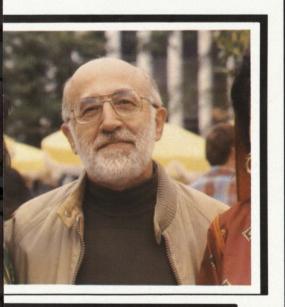

On Saturday, September 19th, the seventh annual International Festival was held in the quadrangle. Despite the rainy weather the festival, coordinated by Mrs. Rose Volpe, was a huge success. Many countries from around the world were represented. Their food, crafts, music, dance, and traditional costumes were shared for all to enjoy.

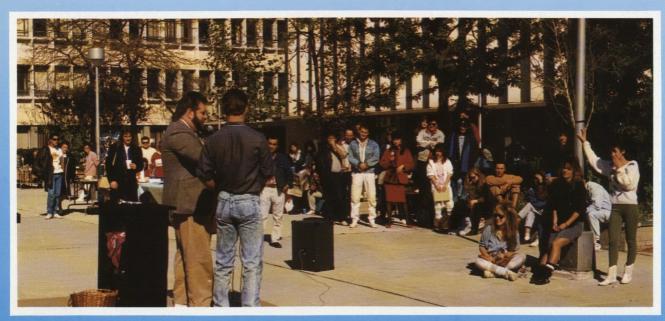

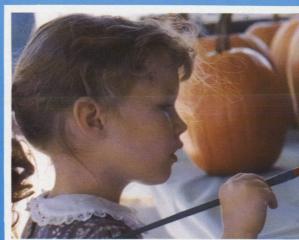

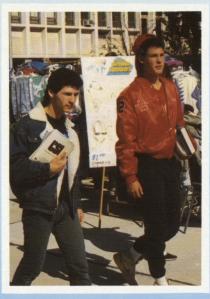

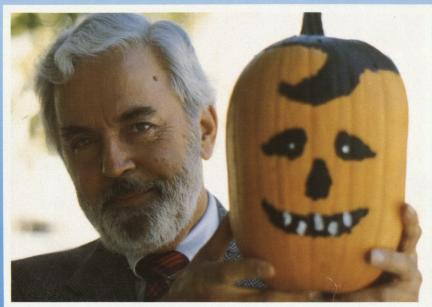

FALL FESTIVAL

The Program Development committee funded a fall festival in the Quadrangle, on October fourteenth. Besides a flea market, there was a pumpkin painting contest, antique photography and a caricaturist. A magician provided the entertainment, and several student groups were present raising funds for their organizations.

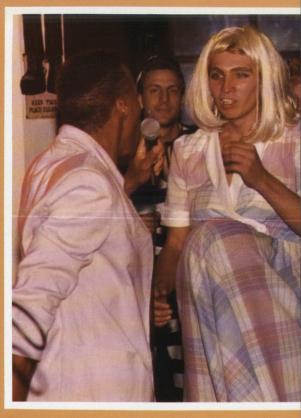

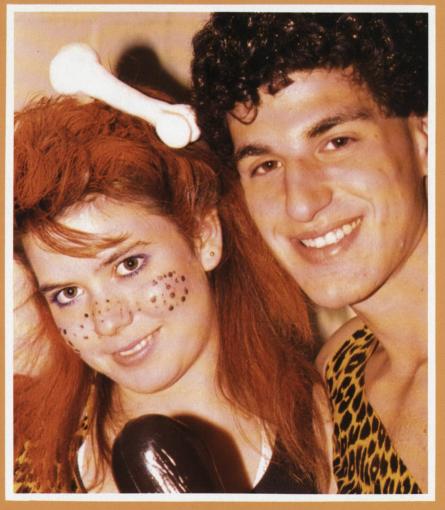

THE ANNUAL HALLOWEEN BASH!

This year's Halloween party was extra special. On Friday, October 30th, the annual event was held in the Sunnyside cafeteria, and featured the hit band, Inn-O-Vation.

Inn-O-Vation is an eight member hand from New Orleans who mixed the latest rock and funk with their originals. They added their innovative choreography for a "super party show".

There was plenty of food and prizes were awarded for the best three costumes. A "Monster bride" won a hundred dollars. Fifty dollars went to a "pregnant nun on roller skates" and twenty five dollars to a man dressed up as a "woman".

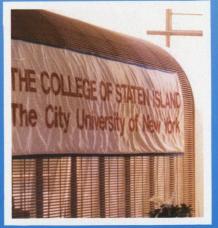

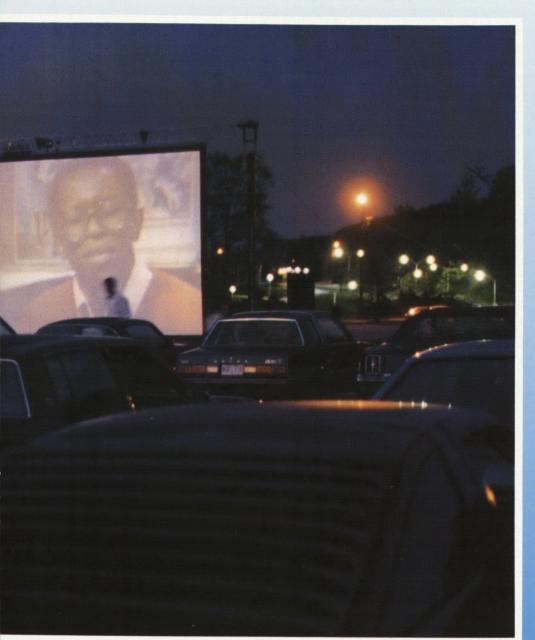

$THE\ STARLIGHT\\BALL$

In the early Spring, the tenth annual Starlight Ball was held in the Sunnyside cafeteria. The black tie event, sponsored by the Friends of CSI, is a fundraiser for student scholarships. Although some students were present, the Ball was largely attended by faculty members and community leaders.

ANNUAL DRIVE-IN!

AWARDS DINNER

The tenth annual awards dinner was held in mid June at the Columbian Lyceum. Awards were presented mainly to students but several faculty and staff also received awards. Each of the academic departments granted awards and scholarships to students. Other coveted awards included: Clara and Arleigh B. Williamson award, Who's Who, male and female Athlete of the Year, Alumni Association awards for outstanding Student Leadership, WSIA student service award, SEEK awards for outstanding academic achievement, Student Government service awards, College Voice award and the highly contested Dolphin awards.

END OF YEAR PICNIC

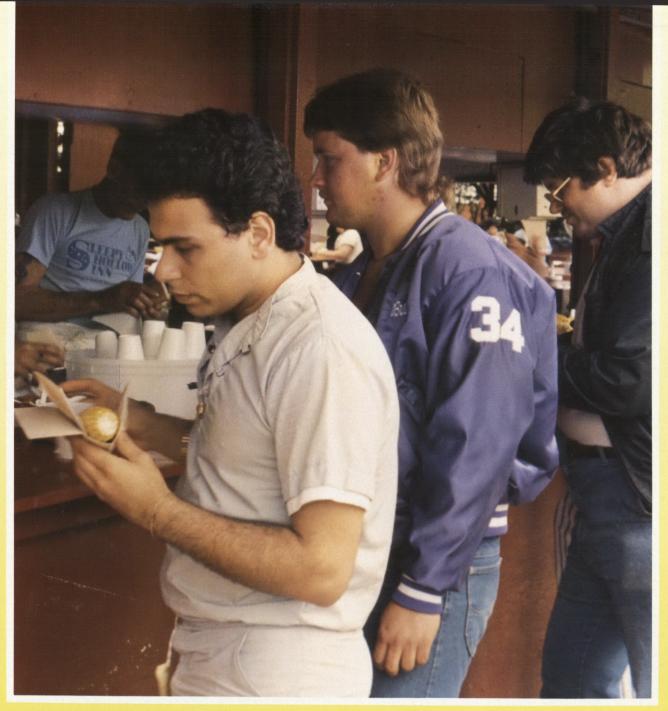

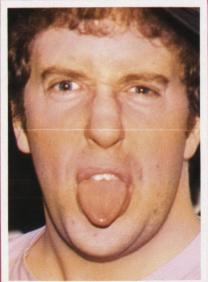

The Program Development Committee works hard every year to plan events that students will enjoy. PDC is funded by the student activity fees. This year's highlights included trips to Radio City Music Hall, pumpkin and apple picking trips, the annual Halloween party, Monday morning Quarterback talk show, "Curriculum Interface" series, movies, "CSI Drive In", the end of the year picnic which was held at Sleepy Hollow, the Fall, Winter and Spring festivals, etc., etc.

The College of Staten Island's 1988 Nursing Graduates Pinning Ceremony.

On December 19th, 1987, Rob Roesch scored a stunning 85 foot shot, a new C.U.N.Y. record and helped lead the Dolphins to a thrilling 102-101 overtime victory over N.Y.U. The Dolphins went on to win their 6th C.U.N.Y. championship and their 4th N.C.A.A. tournament invitation in 8 years.

WATCHIT HAPPEN

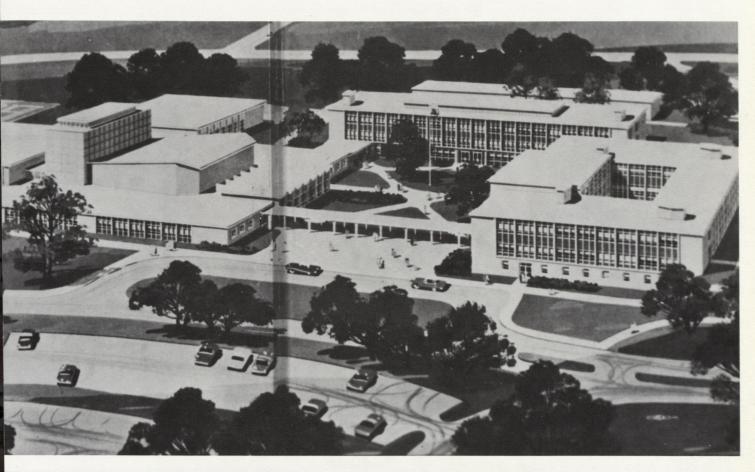

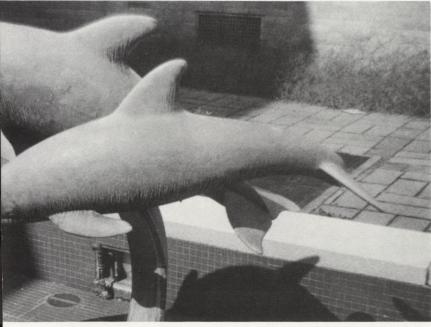

The founding of Staten Island Community College in 1955 and the establishment of Richmond College in 1965 were the result of a collaboration of many scholars, statesmen, and residents who were dedicated to the development of higher education on Staten Island.

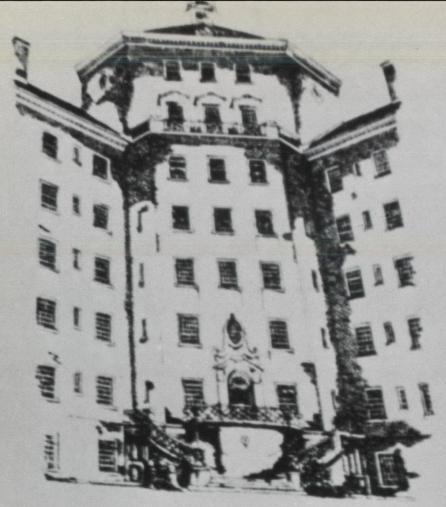

Their spirited devotion to the educational enlightenment of our society was once again evident in 1976, when the College of Staten Island was formed through the merger of the two existing colleges. This devotion is alive today, and has prevailed as our college embarks to a new consolidated campus.

A PROMISE FULFILLED

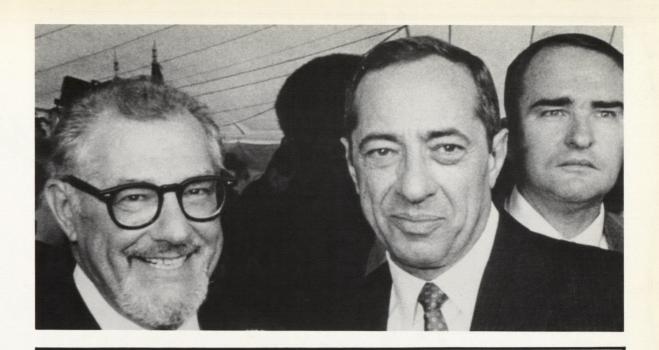

The institution once known as the Willowbrook State School, which occupied this site for thirty-six years, was closed in 1987.

The end of this institution symbolizes the success and appropriateness of New York State's commitment to provide an extensive and comprehensive program of community living opportunities for its citizens with mental retardation and developmental disabilities.

Mario M. Cuomo Governor

Arthur Y. Webb Commissioner Office of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities

Santambas 17 1007

We dedicate the 1988 Dolphin not only to the commitment and the efforts of the principal members of our college community who have given us the opportunity to enhance our knowledge, but also to the students, past and present, whose academic endeavors and achievements have contributed to the recognition of the college as one of the City University's most impressive and promising institutions now and of the future.
